

Advancing opportunities for women in Canada's resource sector

Our Vision

To enhance and support the well-being of women who live and/or work in the Canadian resource sector.

Our Mission

The Women's Resource Sector Network is an incorporated social profit organization which fosters cooperation and collaborative opportunities for women within and between resource industries and sectors.

Our Objectives

To offer networking opportunities for women in but not limited to agriculture, aquaculture, fisheries, forestry, habitat management, mining, oil and gas, tourism and other related service industries, academia, all levels of government and First Nations.

To encourage mentorship and empower more women to become effective leaders at work, and in their communities. As well as promote avenues of opportunities for women interested in careers in the resource sectors.

To support and promote education, training and communication about the resource sector.

Enhance knowledge connectivity and exchange via a web-based information portal.

Membership

Through a virtual and online community, the Women's Resource Sector Network facilitates the sharing of skills, knowledge and experience between women in government, First Nations, industry, related associations, and communities who have an interest the resource economies.

Members are encouraged to join for personal, social, professional, and/or altruistic reasons.
